

The NMRbox and BMRB teams are actively recruiting in multiple areas:

- Graduate students in biophysics, for many aspects of biomolecular NMR spectroscopy including applications in protein structural biology and in metabolomics
- Experienced programmers, for building and maintaining cyberinfrastructure in support of bio-NMR researchers around the world.
- Postdoctoral fellows in biomolecular NMR, including applications to intrinsically disordered proteins and NMR experiment design and data processing and analysis.

Contact Jeff Hoch (hoch@uchc.edu) for more information.